SPECIFICATION

With its 3-strand construction, it offers excellent tensile strength, as well as high flexibility and low elasticity. Its resistance to UV, abrasion and sea water makes it ideal for outdoor use, whether for marine, boating, climbing or other demanding applications. Movline 3-strand rope is available in a wide range of diameters and lengths to suit all your needs.
Very resistant to use, good abrasion behaviour, low stretch, buoyant (density: 0.93). The design of this type of rope allows it to be much stronger than other existing fibres.
For the same weight, it is 25% stronger than polyamide, 35% stronger than polypropylene and 90% stronger than polyethylene.
